

I support broadband over the power grid if it would extend broadband outside of metropolitan, into rural areas. Our only choice is satellite and it is terrible. The phone companies ignore the millions who choose to live rurally. If the electric companies want to give us a chance then by all means let them have it. I will sign up tomorrow!